2019 Simulation Conference

March 28 - 29, 2019

Knoxville, TN

Join us in 2019 as the 11th Annual Tennessee Simulation Alliance Conference moves to Knoxville!

The 2019 TN Simulation Alliance Conference will go to 2 full days this year and feature additional workshops and great networking opportunities. We will look at the future of simulation based healthcare education with our keynote speakers Dr. Amar Patel and Dr. Mary Fey and cover topics ranging from moulage to debriefing. Abstracts are currently being accepted so this is a great opportunity to share your insights, experiences, and research with other educators in our region. We are excited to host the event in Knoxville, TN, and hope to see you there!
